- Which could be caused by third parties by illegal intrusions beyond the control of the club and which could not be linked to Project Padel, Amman.
- The discrepancy of the information, documentations and/or content of the web which could differ between the electronic version and the printed version.
- The impossibility to offer the service or to permit access due to causes not directly linked to Project Padel, Amman, caused by users, third parties, or due to circumstances beyond control.

Project Padel, Amman cannot guarantee in any way whether the users will make use of the service according to the law, under the General Conditions, under generally accepted customs and public order, nor that they use it in a careful and wise way.

Refund Policy:

The refund of the amount paid for any reservation or service undertaken on the website will follow the internal policy of Project Padel, Amman. Users should contact Project Padel, Amman directly to inquire about the specific refund policy applicable to their situation. The amount paid will be refunded only if the user cannot enjoy the service due to reasons attributable to the club.

Purchase of Products and Payment Methods:

To purchase any product from the shop, the user will have to follow the instructions suggested on the website, which would suppose the reading and agreement of all the General Conditions and, if it would be the case, of all the Specific Conditions that could arise. The user, by clicking on “online reserve” will then navigate on different web pages:

- Course Finder: The user will have the option to choose between the courts and dates available, the duration of matches, and the start time. Before clicking on “Course Finder” the user will have to accept the conditions mentioned. Once the user clicks on the course finder, he/she will be directed to the next web page to the court selection.
- Court Selection: Here the user will have a list of all the available courts according to what was selected previously. It will have all the information regarding the court type and price. The user will have to click on the reserve button to go onto the next page.
- Authentication: If the user has not previously logged in, he/she would have to do it at this time.
- Payment Method Selection: The user will have to select the type of payment which would be by credit card or by charging the virtual wallet.
- Payment Finalization: Once the user chooses the payment type, he/she will make the payment.
  - Payment by Card: Through the “RedSys” system.
  - Virtual Wallet: Buying a pre-charged voucher at the club.
